Internship Program Admissions / Application Procedures and Selection Process

The Therapy Program at Dallas Children's Advocacy Center (DCAC) recruits for two full time interns for a one-year, full-time psychology internship to doctoral students in clinical, counseling, or school psychology. Applicants must currently be enrolled in a doctoral (i.e., PhD or PsyD) program in clinical, counseling, or school psychology. Applicants with previous clinical experience with children, adolescents, and families, previous clinical experience working with those with trauma histories, and those interested in child maltreatment will be the best fit for the internship program. Intern selection is based on factors deemed directly relevant to prospective interns’ potential success in the program and in the profession of psychology. Relevant factors in this decision process include: clinical and research experiences; education; references from past supervisors; verbal and written conceptualization and communication skills for a variety of audiences across disciplines; multidisciplinary collaboration; and internship and long-term professional goals. Applicants who are bilingual in English and Spanish and those underrepresented in psychology are especially encouraged to apply.

Does the program require that applicants have received a minimum number of hours of the following at time of application? If Yes, indicate how many:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Total Direct Contact Intervention Hours</th>
<th>N</th>
<th>Y</th>
<th>500 hours of supervised practicum work (intervention and assessment combined)</th>
</tr>

<td>N</td>
<td>Y</td>
<td>500 hours of supervised practicum work (intervention and assessment combined)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Describe any other required minimum criteria used to screen applicants:

Prior to the APPIC ranking deadline, applicants must have completed (1) at least three years of graduate coursework in their current field, (2) at least 500 hours of supervised practicum work, (3) all required doctoral course work, and (4) have successfully proposed their dissertation. If accumulation of practicum hours has been impacted due to changes in training because of COVID-19 restrictions, applicants with fewer than 500 hours of supervised practicum work will be considered on a case-by-case basis.

To be considered, the following materials must be submitted through the APPIC’s Online Service by December 6, 2020:

- Cover letter/letter of intent summarizing career goals and interest in the DCAC Doctoral Psychology Internship Program
- If applicable, statement discussing how you and your program have adapted to changes in training opportunities due to COVID-19. Please discuss any changes to training opportunities and the accumulation of hours toward supervised practicum work.
- Curriculum Vitae
