

Doctoral Psychology Internship Program Trainee Admissions, Support, and Outcome Data¹

Internship Program Admissions / Application Procedures and Selection Process

Dallas Children's Advocacy Center (DCAC) recruits for two full time interns for a one-year, full-time psychology internship to doctoral students in clinical, counseling, or school psychology. Applicants must currently be enrolled in a doctoral (i.e., PhD or PsyD) program in clinical, counseling, or school psychology. Applicants with previous clinical experience with children, adolescents, and families, previous clinical experience working with those with trauma histories, and those interested in child maltreatment will be the best fit for the internship program. Intern selection is based on factors deemed directly relevant to prospective interns' potential success in the program and in the profession of psychology. Relevant factors in this decision process include: clinical and research experiences; education; references from past supervisors; verbal and written conceptualization and communication skills for a variety of audiences across disciplines; multidisciplinary collaboration; and internship and long-term professional goals. Applicants who are bilingual in English and Spanish and those underrepresented in psychology are especially encouraged to apply.

Does the program or institution require students, trainees, and/or staff (faculty) to comply with specific policies or practices related to the institution's affiliation or purpose? N

Does the program require that applicants have received a minimum number of hours of the following at time of application? If yes, indicate how many:

Total Direct Contact Intervention Hours	N	Y	Total Direct Contact Assessment Hours	N	Y
--	----------	----------	--	----------	----------

Describe any other required minimum criteria used to screen applicants:

Thank you for your interest in the Doctoral Psychology Internship Program (DPIP) at Dallas Children's Advocacy Center (DCAC). We are thrilled with the inquiries we have received about our internship positions for the 2026-2027 training year!

The DPIP at DCAC is a mighty (and small) training program. A second psychologist joined the DPIP at DCAC in January 2025. We returned to active accreditation status in August 2025.

The Doctoral Psychology Internship Program (DPIP) at Dallas Children's Advocacy Center (DCAC) will be participating in the Match for the 2026-2027 year. We have updated our materials detailing the available training opportunities; the brochure is available below. Please note: While in previous years we offered a rotation at Children's Health in the REACH Clinic, we are unable to offer that rotation at this time.

Applications are due on Sunday, December 7, 2025; interview notifications will be made on Monday, December 15, 2025; interviews will take place virtually either Tuesday, January 6, 2026 or Wednesday, January 7, 2026. We will post information on our website, here on the APPIC Directory, and through the Late-Breaking Internship Program Updates via the MATCH-NEWS email list as this information is available. In the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact the Director of Clinical Training, Elena Doskey de Lobón, Ph.D., at edoskey@dcac.org.

The Doctoral Psychology Internship Program is a member of the Association of Psychology Postdoctoral and Internship Center (APPIC; member code 2527). The DPIP is currently accredited, active, with the initial date of accreditation as May 27, 2022. The contact information for the APA Office of Program Consultation and Accreditation is included here.
